Jackson & Campbell Welcomes
David L. Kelleher and Stefan C. Nicholas

Washington, DC; December 1, 2008 – Jackson & Campbell is pleased to announce that David L. Kelleher and Stefan C. Nicholas have joined the firm. David is a Director in the firm's General Litigation practice group. Stefan is a Director in the firm's Trusts & Estates and Business Law practice groups.

David has extensive first-hand experience in a wide variety of commercial and public interest litigation, representing clients in state and federal courts nationwide. He has significant experience resolving disputes through Alternative Dispute Resolution, as well as counseling companies and membership organizations in risk management. Before joining J&C, David was a partner at an international law firm. He earned his J.D. from Case Western Reserve University College of Law.

Stefan has extensive experience in drafting wills, trusts and all ancillary documents in connection with estate and gift tax planning. He is also experienced with developing exit planning strategies for business owners, and has counseled clients on estate planning, business succession planning and asset protection planning. Prior to joining J&C, Stefan was a partner at a small firm that provided wealth preservation and family office services. He earned his J.D. from the University of Virginia School of Law.
